NB: In order to make membership more affordable to Associations in economically developing countries, the annual fees are based on the World Bank GNI - Atlas Method Data. The World Bank use four income categories (Low, Middle, Upper Middle, and Upper) to define a country's 'income level'. IAC consider countries within the first two category classifications (Low and Middle income) to be 'economically developing' countries and should pay the second fee structure, World Economic Area 2 – above). IAC is a non-profit organisation and we attempt to keep Association membership fees to a minimum. Membership income contributes towards our operational and developmental costs. Fees above relate to Spring 2017.
